KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS
PARAPHERNALIA
AND

THE
COLUMBUS,
OHIO.

SIR KNIGHT AND BRO.:

Please examine this catalogue and note its completeness. If you do not purpose buying any of these goods, the thirty-two pages of illustrations will no doubt be of interest to you as showing the new styles of costumes and paraphernalia used by lodges in all sections of the country to embellish and beautify the work of the Order.

The true purpose of this catalogue is, as near as possible, to represent the articles that we manufacture. We have therefore taken great care to show the details of ornamentation precisely as they are used on the articles we illustrate. In the case of Robes, the combinations of colors are of first importance, and our colored plates show the harmonious effects in the trimming of the costumes just as we make them.

If you contemplate purchasing supplies we trust that you will pardon the suggestion of the thought, that as we have taken so much care in preparing this elaborate and beautiful catalogue, that it is fair for you to assume that the same careful attention will be given to the carrying out of any order that you may be pleased to intrust to us.

Respectfully soliciting your orders and an opportunity to please you, we remain,

Yours fraternally,

THE M. C. LILLEY & CO.

Please do not mutilate this Catalogue. Order by Number.

Concerning Ourselves.

WE do not deem it necessary to devote several pages of this Catalogue to self laudation. Our goods are too well and favorably known to need any special comment here.

---

Being STRICTLY MANUFACTURERS and with our perfected facilities, we are enabled to furnish FIRST-CLASS AND AUTHENTIC GOODS at the most reasonable prices, and we propose to do in the future as we have done in the past; let the goods speak for themselves, knowing that Lodges are more interested in the cost and quality of the goods, than in self praise.

THE M. C. LILLEY & CO.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS
UPON WHICH WE SELL THE GOODS DESCRIBED IN THIS CATALOGUE.

WE GUARANTEE

ALL GOODS contained in this catalogue to be strictly as represented, and if any article should not prove satisfactory to the Lodge it may be exchanged within ten days after arrival, provided the article has not been used and is not soiled or damaged. This does not apply to Seals, Lanterns, Funeral Rosettes, Badges, or any article having the name and number of the Lodge thereon, if made as ordered, nor to goods made speciallly to order.

When it becomes necessary to exchange an article, the Lodge must always prepay the express charges on the goods returned.

Discount.

All prices in this Catalogue are subject to a discount for CASH, except such articles as are marked NET.

How Goods are Shipped.

All goods are shipped by Express unless otherwise ordered.

When ordered shipped by FREIGHT, the Lodge or party ordering must assume all risk of delays, damage, and loss.

In Ordering

First. Remember that many of the articles catalogued are made to order only, and therefore sufficient time should be allowed in filling an order. It is difficult to state here "how long," as that will depend altogether on the quantity and class of goods wanted. But with our large number of employees and perfected facilities, we can ordinarily make shipment within one week after receipt of order.

When goods are wanted for a particular date, always mention the fact in your orders and we will promptly notify you whether or not we can fill the order by the time specified.

Second. Give the number of this Catalogue (No. 72) and the list number, and the list price of each article you order.

Third. Give the name of the Express Company by which you desire the goods shipped.

Fourth. When ordering goods shipped by freight, give "routing" if possible as the goods will reach you more promptly when this is done.

Fifth. Attach the Seal of the Lodge to the order, if you do not want the goods sent C. O. D.

Sixth. When the Seal of the Lodge is not attached to the order the goods will be sent by express C. O. D. with the privilege of examination before paying, in accordance with the rules of the Express Co.

Goods can be sent by freight C. O. D. (Bill of Lading attached to Sight Draft) but the goods cannot be examined before being paid for. This is the rule of the Railroad Companies, and not our own.

Our standing, however, is sufficient guarantee that we will correct, free of expense to the Lodge, any errors of ours if such be found.

All orders for secret paraphernalia are filled in accordance with the Law of the Supreme Lodge only.

How to Remit.

Remittances should be made by New York Draft, Express Money Order, or Postoffice Money Order, payable to The M. C. Lilley & Co., or currency by Express, prepaid. Remittances made otherwise are at the senders' risk of loss.

Address all communications to

CATALOGUE No. 72.

Door Shields.

NOTE.—We wish to call special attention to our improved Door Shields, and particularly to the combination Door Shields and Holder, and to the Combination Door Shields, Holder and Knocker. These are the best and most convenient Door Shields in the market, having many advantages over the old style painted tin Shields. They are always in their place, noiseless, durable, and handsome. The three Shields are designed to remain in the Holder or Frame at all times, and can be arranged for any Rank in almost an instant. The mode of operating will be readily understood at a glance at the illustration. The entire set, including the Holder, can also be removed in a moment when necessary. Our other style of Door Shields possess many of the advantages mentioned above.

Caskets.

NOTE.—All of our Caskets are equipped with a patent spring attachment by which the entire top can be instantaneously removed and as quickly replaced, instead of using screws, thus making them particularly desirable for the new Ritualistic work which requires an open C— containing a GENUINE or full length Artificial Scene.

Combination Casket, Trestles and Pall.

NOTE.—We wish to call special attention to this article. The three parts, Casket, Trestles and Pall, are constructed in one, and can be placed into position for work as quickly as can any one of the above mentioned articles separately. Besides this advantage it is also the most economical. It is strongly made and nicely finished, and presents a very neat appearance. When not in use it can be folded together, occupying no more space than a Casket alone; this will be appreciated by Lodges having only a limited amount of closet space. It is our own invention and so convenient that no Lodge can afford to be without one, we specially recommend it.

❁ In Gas Belt Districts ❁

WE advise all Lodges in the Gas Districts to order costumes Silk Trimmed or Silk Embroidered, because where natural gas is used extensively, the gilt or silver trimmings tarnish rapidly.

❁ Broadcloth ❁ Robes ❁

We call especial attention to Robes made of Broadcloth, which we furnish at same price as fine silk finished velvet or satin. These Robes are made of any color Broadcloth desired, and with harmonious trimmings of various shades and elegantly embroidered; are rich and beautiful in appearance. We shall be pleased to send samples of the various colors of cloth upon request, over Seal of Lodge.

THE M. C. LILLEY & CO.

Official Jewels.

Being the contractors for manufacturing Jewels for the Supreme Lodge, we have always declined to sell them to Lodges or individuals, and we have never delivered any Jewels except upon positive and direct orders from the Supreme Keeper of Records and Seal.

The Supreme Lodge requires that you purchase Jewels from the Grand K. of R. and S. of your Grand Lodge, and you can legally obtain them there only. Please communicate with him direct.

Subordinate Lodges, under the direct control of the Supreme Lodge, must purchase the Jewels of the Supreme Keeper of Records and Seal, whose address is R. L. C. White, Nashville, Tenn.

MAGIC LANTERNS.

General Information.

We Send on Approval.

Having confidence in the workmanship, efficiency and ease of manipulation of our make of Magic Lanterns, and knowing of the satisfaction they have given to many purchasers, and also having confidence in the intelligence and fair treatment of the Lanterns by the members of the fraternities who make use of them, we do not hesitate to send our Magic Lanterns as illustrated for examination and trial, only stipulating that all transportation charges shall be paid by the society ordering, and that the order for the Lantern be sent by authority and under seal of the society, or by some responsible business house.

Made for Society Purposes.

Having had over twenty-five years experience in the use of Magic Lanterns in illustrating the emblems, etc., of the different fraternal societies, we have witnessed its gradual development from a large, clumsy, expensive instrument, into the more compact, convenient and inexpensive instrument now offered.

We have kept pace with the various improvements made, and feel a just pride in the fact that we have invented several of the valuable improvements now in use, and knowing the requirements of the different fraternal organizations we manufacture our Magic Lanterns especially for their requirements, so making them that they are easily and satisfactorily operated by any person upon following the simple and complete directions we send with each instrument. In this catalogue we have furnished such information as we believe will be most desired by members of the fraternities, knowing that many of them are unacquainted with Magic Lantern practice, and do not desire technical descriptions such as would be of interest only to opticians or college professors.

Discount.

We make a liberal discount to societies for cash from the prices printed in this catalogue. Prices for Lanterns do not include the slides or pictures.

Shipping Directions, Etc.

We send goods by express unless otherwise directed. When ordered sent by freight, the person ordering must assume all risk of damage or delay. Send money by draft on New York, postal money order, or by express. In ordering from this catalogue, please order by the name of the article and state its price.

ILLUMINANTS.

Three Wick Oil Lamp.

PRICE, $9.00. SUBJECT TO A LIBERAL DISCOUNT.

The best among the inexpensive illuminants used in Magic Lanterns is coal oil or petroleum.

After careful experiments, extending over several years, with many forms of lamps, we have adopted the three-wick lamp, as per foregoing illustration, as the least complicated and the one producing the most satisfactory results in operation and illumination.

We have found that the rays emanating from the outside wicks of the four and five-wick lamps were too far from the center of the condensing lens to pass through to advantage and were mostly lost by reflection; this was evidenced by the Columbus Gas Co., in testing the candle-power of Magic Lantern oil lamps with different quantities of wicks, our three-wick lamp giving a larger candle-power than a five-wick lamp.

We take the following extract from the report of the superintendent, showing the candle-power of our three-wick oil lamp:

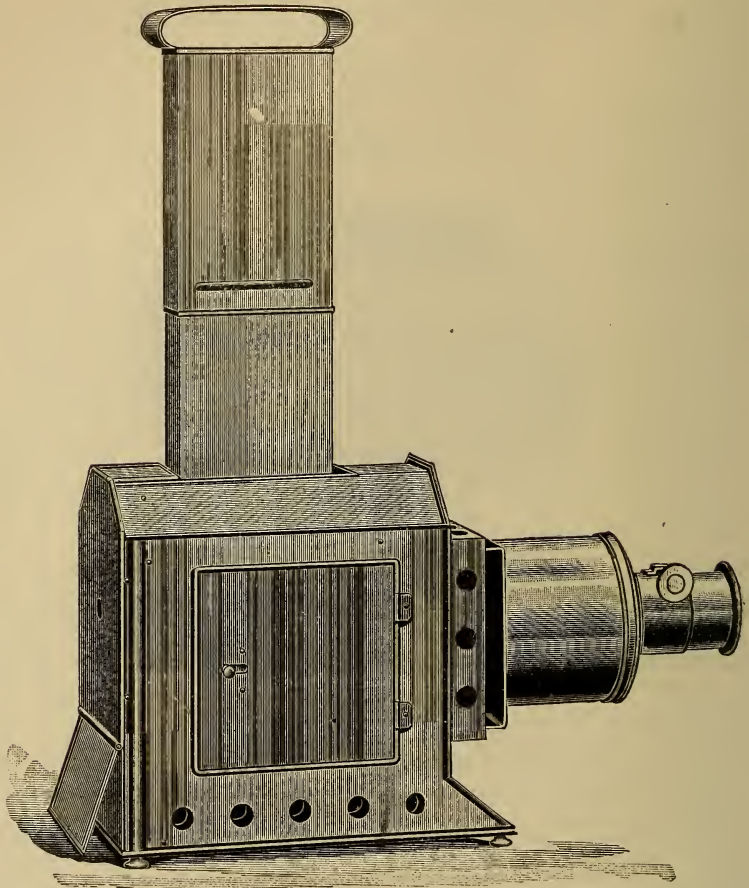

"We have tested, by means of our bar photometer the American three-wick lamp with the following result, 128 candle-power.

"T. EYSENBACH,

"Supt. of Works of the Columbus Gas Co."

We furnish with our oil lamps the patented "Marshall Process" wicks, through which, by capillary attraction, the oil is drawn up easily and freely and with great regularity, insuring thereby the finest white light of the greatest possible illuminating power, and the combustion is so perfect that the lamp does not "smell" as when ordinary cotton wicks are used.

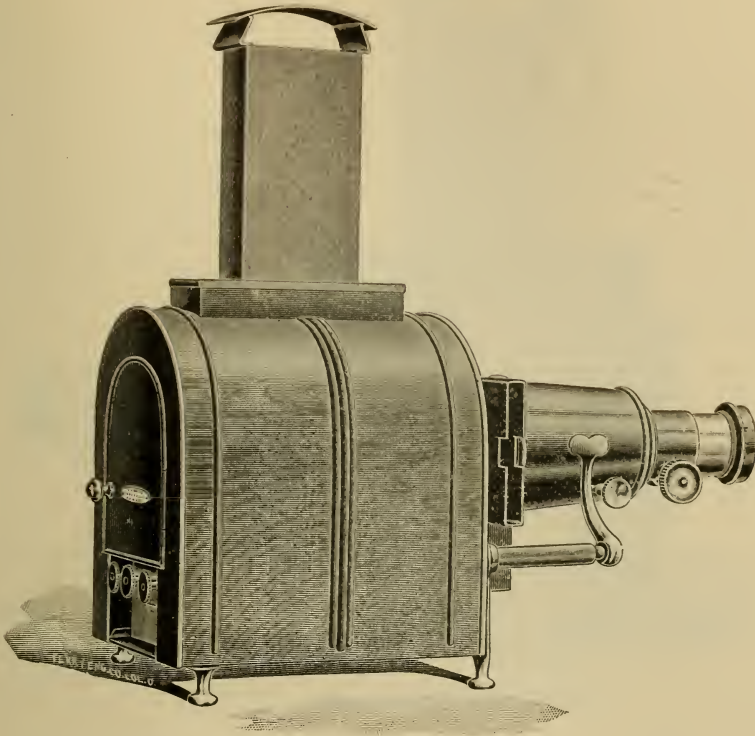

Oil lamps will make a distinct and clear picture eight feet in diameter, and will also make a picture ten or even twelve feet in diameter, but no oil lamp can be made to make a brilliant picture in these larger diameters.

The Knights of Pythias Capital Lantern.

The KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS Capital Magic Lantern is adapted for use in small lodge-rooms, where an inexpensive instrument is desired and not too much is expected of any Lantern of its price. It is substantially made of Russia iron, well ventilated. Is furnished with achromatic objective lenses, with rack and pinion adjustment for focusing, suitable condensing lenses mounted in a brass cell. Good three-wick oil-lamp, the flames regulated by an opening in the rear of the Lantern. It will produce a clear picture from seven to eight feet in diameter when placed about fourteen feet from the screen. Packed in our improved wooden case, upon which the Lantern is placed when in use.

Price, including a white muslin screen eight feet square, but not the slides or pictures (subject to discount)..... $30 00

The Knights of Pythias Fraternity Magic Lantern.

To meet the want for a medium-priced Lantern, and yet one that will do effective work and give satisfactory service, we have designed the Knights of Pythias FRATERNITY, the body is substantially constructed of heavy sheet-iron, well ventilated.

It is furnished with the latest improved three-wick oil lamp, the flames of which, by the aid of the highly polished reflector, project a distinct and satisfactory picture eight feet in diameter, high power objective lenses mounted in a lacquered brass tube, four-inch condensing lenses, our latest metal slide holder and rising and falling curtain effect. Furnished with the Lantern is our improved carrying case, which can also be used to place the Lantern upon while in use.

The Knights of Pythias Ideal Magic Lantern

Is, as its name implies, an Ideal Magic Lantern, with coal oil as its source of light. It has no equal for effective work and ease of manipulation.

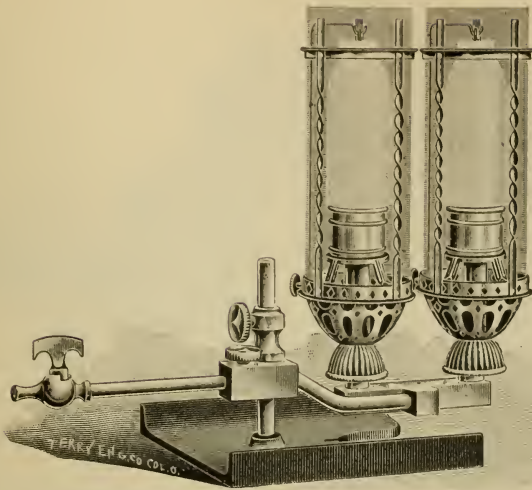

It is made entirely of metal and glass, thus avoiding the use of wood, which by warping and splitting has caused so much annoyance in many Magic Lanterns previously made.

As is shown by the illustration, it is provided with an ornamental perforated jacket to insure ventilation and prevent overheating. The metal hood, supports for body of Lantern, telescopic rods and mountings for lenses are of the best workmanship and all finely nickel-plated. In the metal hood is placed our justly popular curtain effect.

It is provided with our powerful three-wick lamp, in which we insert the justly famed Marshall process wicks. This lamp, with the aid of its finely polished reflector, will project a clearly defined picture eight feet in diameter; it will also project as bright a picture ten or even twelve feet in diameter as any coal oil lamp manufactured. The condensing lenses are four inches in diameter, mounted in the latest and most improved manner. The objective lenses are of high power and best quality.

Packed in a neat case, having a compartment for slides and other accessories, also a convenient arrangement whereby the front of the lid can be raised or lowered, thus raising or lowering the Lantern and causing the picture on the screen to show at a desired elevation. We include a fine muslin screen ten feet square.

Price (which does not include slides) subject to a liberal discount. . $60 00

The Duplex Incandescent Gas Burner for House Gas.

With attachments for use in a Magic Lantern of Ordinary size, including extra mantels and chimneys, fifteen feet of rubber tubing and a pair of gas pliers.

Price, $17.00. Subject to a Liberal Discount.

The Incandescent Gas Burner, so universally used, is too well known to need detailed description.

There have been a number of experiments made to use it in the Magic Lantern, but they have heretofore been confined to the use of a single flame and under the most favorable circumstances it has yielded but seventy candle-power; it failed to illuminate a picture as brightly as the oil lamp used in Magic Lanterns. The idea occurred to us that by using two flames a more powerful light would be obtained; the result justified our endeavors, and we offer a Duplex Incandescent Burner of over a hundred candle-power projecting a satisfactory picture eight feet in diameter.

Too much should not be expected of either the ordinary house gas or oil illumination; they have their limitations; while a coal oil lamp or single gas jet will fairly illuminate a medium-sized room, yet the illumination is dim when compared with the electric light. Hence, while the coal oil lamp or house gas in a Magic Lantern produces a picture ten or even twelve feet in diameter, the picture loses in brightness and definition, and no oil lamp or house gas jet can be made that will make a bright and distinct picture much over eight feet in diameter, while with more powerful illuminants a picture ten to twenty feet can be brilliantly projected.

Those who desire but a medium-sized picture will find the Duplex Incandescent Gas Burner as a Magic Lantern illuminant very convenient.

The Knights of Pythias Advance Magic Lantern.

Our frame or body, made entirely of metal with perforated jacket, is used, as well as our improved metal slide holder, also our convenient curtain effect is placed in hood.

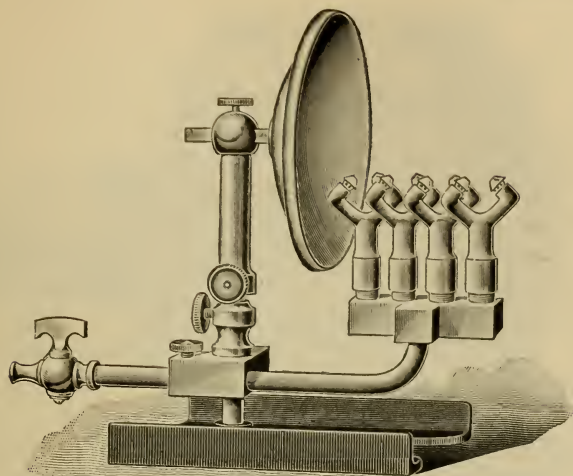

In one side of the body is placed a door which, in the engraving, is shown open so as to display the position occupied by the Duplex Incandescent Gas Burner, which is fully described on another page of this Catalogue.

The attachment permits of either a lateral or vertical adjustment of the burner; it also permits the burner to be moved forward and back so that the light may be equally diffused upon the screen. We furnish suitable rubber tubing to enable the Lantern to be operated fifteen feet or less from the gas fixtures; should it be desired to operate the Lantern at a greater distance, additional feet of rubber tubing will be furnished at market rates. We also furnish a pair of gas pliers.

The Knights of Pythias Advance Lantern is suitable for small halls where a moderate sized picture is desired, and for which use it is found to answer a good purpose.

Acetylene Gas Burners, Attachment and Generator.

Including Ten Pounds of Calcium Carbide.

Price, $37.00.

Prices Separately.—Burners and attachment..... $15 00
 Generator and ten pounds of carbide..... 22 00

Prices Subject to a Liberal Discount.

Heretofore Acetylene Gas has only been shown in the laboratory of the chemist, but owing to recent discoveries, the calcic carbide is produced at so low a price that at the present time it is used at a less cost than ordinary house gas.

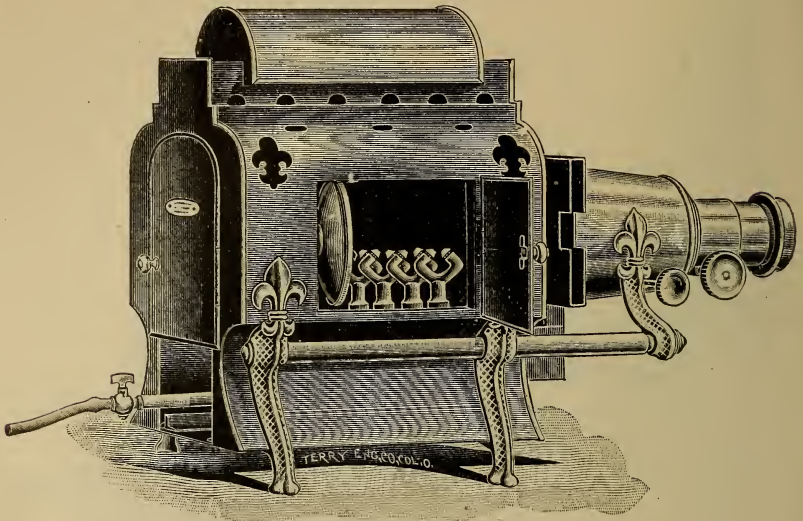

The carbide is now made by fusing ground lime and coke in the intense heat of an electric furnace; it is not in itself explosive nor will it burn when placed in a flame, but when placed in water it generates Acetylene Gas, which, when made in a suitable generator and burned in the proper form of burner and jet, yields a white light of great brilliancy and steadiness which makes it an admirable illuminant for the Magic Lantern. Used in connection with the generator and burner we furnish, the Acetylene Gas is safer and more satisfactory to use than any other illuminant, excepting the electric light. It is also inexpensive, costing but a few cents an hour.

Our burners and attachment (see above illustration) are furnished with four special jets, in the rear of which is a highly polished reflector; the attachment is so arranged that it can be quickly subjected to either a vertical or lateral adjustment, and by means of our recently invented sliding base can be readily moved forward or backward.

The automatic generator we furnish is of the latest type, consisting of but few parts, simple and safe in operation, is strong and durable, and cannot get out of order; it can be easily carried (weighing but twelve pounds) so that the Magic Lantern can be operated anywhere.

We furnish calcic carbide at lowest market rates, shipped in secure packages, in which it will keep indefinitely, ready for use as wanted. Owing to the great brilliancy of the Acetylene Gas Light, approximately 500 candle-power, a highly satisfactory picture twelve feet in diameter may be produced.

We strongly recommend the purchase of an Acetylene Magic Lantern in halls where electricity is not used. Its convenience and powerful light more than compensate for the additional cost over that of a Coal Oil Magic Lantern.

The Knights of Pythias Columbian Magic Lantern.

The Knights of Pythias Columbian Magic Lantern is furnished with our improved lantern body with perforated sides, insuring complete ventilation, reducing the heat to a minimum amount.

In the nickel-plated hood is placed the desirable shutter to produce the effect upon the screen of a rising and falling curtain.

High Power Objective Lenses and four-inch condensing lenses, all in nickel-plated mountings.

The illuminant used in the Knights of Pythias Columbian is Acetylene Gas, generated in the best form of Automatic Generator and burned in an attachment using four double burners, for a description of which see one of the previous pages, and we repeat that owing to the great brilliancy of the light, its simplicity, its ease of operation, and its safety, it is a most desirable light in halls where electricity is not used. The attachment connected with the burners permits of their position being readily changed so as to center the light in the focal axis of the several lenses.

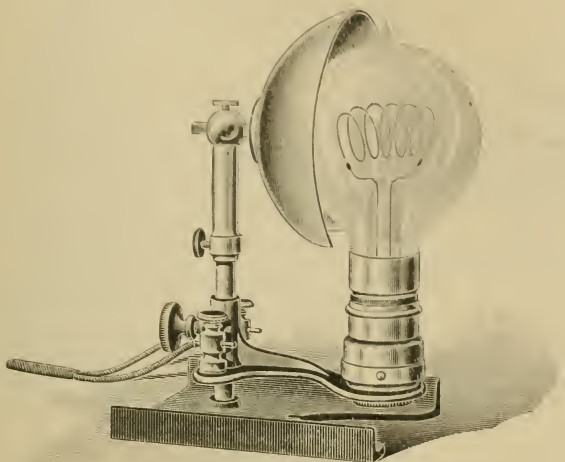

Complete and simple directions accompany the Lantern, enabling a person to make the acetylene gas and operate the Knights of Pythias Columbian Lantern with ease and pleasure.

Furnished with the Lantern is an Acetylene Gas Generator, a duck covered case made especially to operate the Lantern upon, and also to contain the Lantern, a suitable number of slides and a fine ten-foot bleached muslin screen.

Incandescent Lamp and Attachments.

One hundred and fifty Candle-power Incandescent Electric Lamp, with Attachments and an Extra Lamp and Switch.

Price, $23.50. Subject to a Liberal Discount.

Heretofore the incandescent electric lamp has not been applicable for magic lantern purposes, the light was too diffused; recently there has been placed upon the market a specially constructed lamp of 150 CANDLE-POWER, the carbon or filament of which is concentrated in the center of the lamp into a convoluted spiral, so as to radiate the light from nearly one point. We offer the 150 candle-power lamp as the one most suitable for society purposes. It can be used on any incandescent circuit, either direct or alternating.

No rheostat or resistance coil is needed when the voltage of the current does not exceed 110. We furnish with the lamp and attachment when the 110 volt current is used, insulated wires, one end of each connected with the magic lantern, the other ends connected with a suitable plug; all that is necessary to do is to remove from its socket an ordinary incandescent lamp, screw in the socket the plug we furnish and turn on the current at the lamp, the ceiling cut-out being fused to six amperes. When the 52 volt current is used we furnish a suitable 12 ampere fuse block instead of the plug.

In ordering, state whether the direct or alternating current is used; also the voltage of current at point near which lantern is to be placed; also state the type of socket into which our plug is to be inserted, whether the Edison, Thompson-Houston, Westinghouse, etc., and the distance from the nearest ordinary lamp or socket to the place where it is desired to operate the lantern.

This information can be furnished by the electric company furnishing the current, and which information enables us to send a lamp of the proper voltage, the right kind of a plug, and sufficient length of wire. The useful life of these lamps is from 600 to 1,000 hours. Additional lamps can be furnished at market rates, but as these lamps are specially constructed they are somewhat more expensive than the ordinary incandescent electric lamp. Any one who has not the slightest knowledge of electricity can satisfactorily operate the magic lantern fitted with the incandescent electric lamp.

It is no more trouble to light the lamp attached to the lantern than it is to turn on any electric light in the hall; when turned on the light burns brilliantly and steadily without further care or attention. It is by far the most preferable illuminant for medium sized halls, projecting a bright and clear picture 10 or more feet in diameter.

Those having oil lamp lanterns and desiring to use the incandescent electric lamp, need not purchase an entirely new magic lantern outfit; only the oil lamp need be discarded. Our incandescent electric lamp attachment is of such a size as to easily fit in most magic lantern bodies, which have a space inside nine inches high and four and one-half inches wide.

Lantern bodies smaller in size can be reconstructed by a local tinner so as to contain our Incandescent Electric Lamp and attachment.

The Knights of Pythias Peerless Magic Lantern.

To those organizations having the advantage of the electric light we have an admirable instrument to offer in The Knights of Pythias Peerless Magic Lantern, where the operator has no knowledge of electricity.

Our ventilated sheet iron body is used, having a door placed in one of the sides, which, when open, discloses the recently invented 150 candle-power incandescent electric lamp, illustrated and fully described in another part of this Catalogue.

The lamp and attachment are operated from the rear; upon the door are placed binding posts and a switch to enable the operator to turn the current on and off without leaving the lantern. These lamps can be used on both the direct and alternating current.

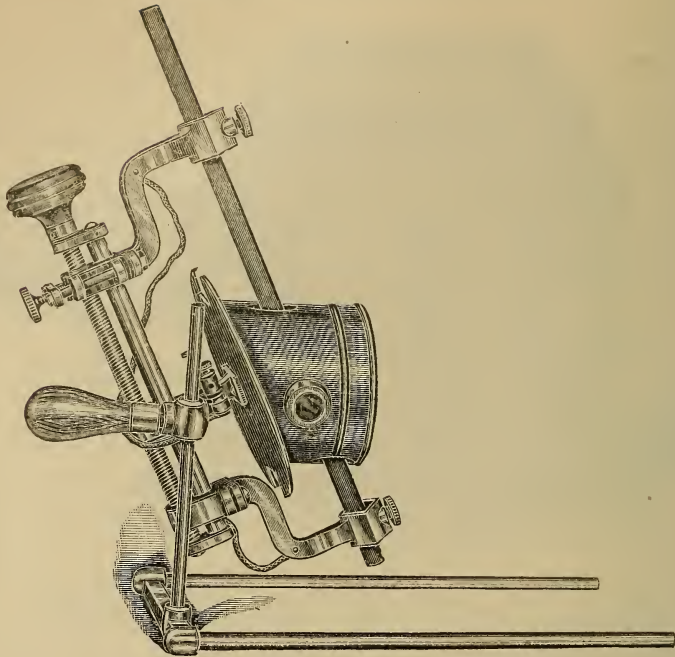

The Knights of Pythias Peerless Lantern is fitted with our new hood with curtain effect, high-power or one-quarter size objective lenses,  $4\frac{1}{8}$ -inch condensing lenses.

Hand-feed Electric Arc Lamp.

Six Pair Best Carbons, Fine Quality Adjustable Rheostat and Knife Switch.
Price, complete, $37.00.

Prices Separately.—For lamps and carbons..... $21 75
Rheostat and switch..... 15 25

Prices Subject to a Liberal Discount.

The hand-feed electric arc lamp of our manufacture, illustrated above, is well constructed and unquestionably the best form of an arc electric lamp for Magic Lantern use. It is more desirable than the automatic arc lamp, being under the perfect control of the lantern operator; is less expensive than other high candle-power illuminants; is always ready, and no especial knowledge of electricity is needed.

It is perfectly safe when used on the ordinary incandescent circuit. All its working parts are in plain view, readily understood and easily kept in order. It is fitted with the improved geared movement, so arranged that the arc remains opposite the optical center of the lenses. The lamp illustrated has our latest improved knob or handle; by its use the operator can not only raise and lower the lamp upon the upright post, but by giving the handle a slight turn to the right firmly attach the lamp to the post.

It is thoroughly insulated to prevent any liability of short circuiting.

The carbons furnished are of the best quality, and of such length as to burn continuously for a longer time than is needed by most of the fraternal organizations.

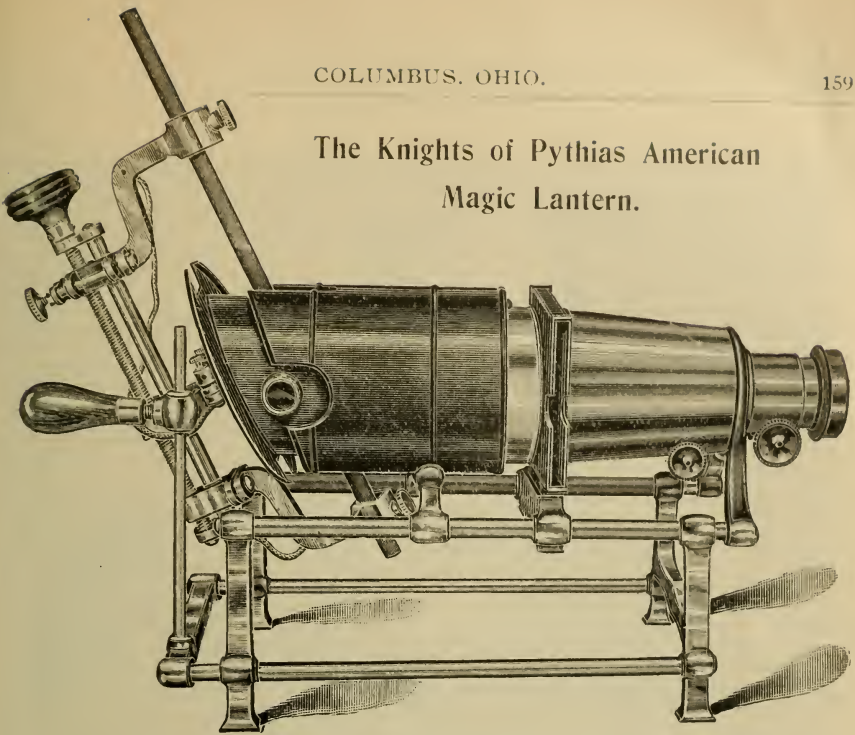

This lamp furnishes an intensely white light, of about 2,000 candle-power, depending upon the quantity of resistance.

The necessary resistance coil or rheostat accompanying the lamp may be used on either the direct or alternating current and with currents of different voltages.

The amperage of these arc lamps is from 12 to 15, with 110 volts system.

In ordering, information should be furnished us as to the number of volts used; also whether the current is direct or alternating. This information can be given by the electric light company supplying the current.

The Knights of Pythias American Magic Lantern.

The above illustration exhibits our latest and best form of Magic Lantern, using as an illuminant the modern Hand-feed Electric Arc Lamp, furnishing the brightest light yet invented for Magic Lantern purposes.

The lamp is enclosed in a suitable cylindrical sheet-iron hood. The nickel-plated frame work supports two pairs of parallel telescopic rods; the lower pair of rods permits the lamp to be pulled away from the sheet-iron hood to renew the carbons, etc.; the use of the upper pair of rods is to pull forward the objective lenses, etc., for the purpose of partially focusing the picture and for the easy removal of the condensing lenses.

The Knights of Pythias American Magic Lantern is furnished with our improved hand-feed arc lamp, fully described in another part of this Catalogue.

Four and one-eighth-inch condensing lenses, one-quarter size or high-power objective lenses, metal slide holder, rising and falling curtain effect.

The rheostat furnished with the Lantern is of the most compact type. It is not desirable to place the rheostat at or near the Lantern; the rheostat, from its nature, radiates a large amount of heat, and, if an operator has to work in its immediate locality he will find it uncomfortably warm. To successfully and satisfactorily operate the Knights of Pythias American Lantern furnished by us, does not require any further knowledge of electricity than to follow the easily understood directions accompanying the Lantern.

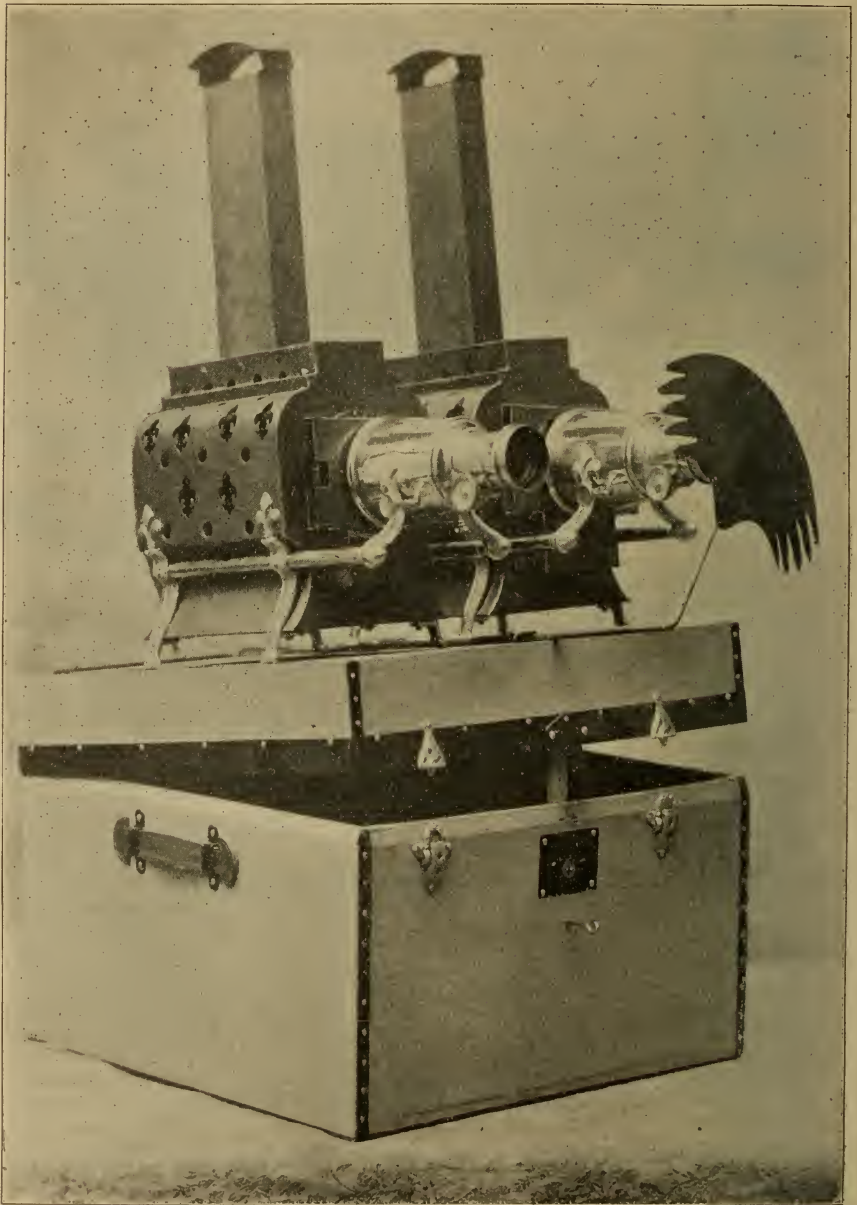

In ordering, specify whether direct or alternating current is used, also the voltage. This information can be furnished by the electric company furnishing the current.

DISSOLVING EFFECT USING COAL OIL.

ILLUSTRATION OF TWO K. OF P. IDEAL MAGIC LANTERNS ARRANGED FOR DISSOLVING.

Dissolving Effect.

To produce the beautiful dissolving effect requires the use of two Magic Lanterns, and a mechanical contrivance called a "Dissolver."

The dissolver is made in different shapes to conform to the illuminant used.

Its use is to permit the light from one lantern to project a picture upon the screen, while it obscures the light of the other lantern, then by the manipulation of the dissolver it gradually obscures the first picture, and simultaneously permits the second picture to be seen, until finally the first picture is entirely obscured and the second picture is shown clear, distinct and alone. It is difficult to determine when the first picture disappears and the other appears.

The first picture or slide now being obscured, the operator can readily remove it and replace it by the third picture. The second picture is now dissolved into the third picture, the second picture removed and the fourth picture inserted. This process is continued until all the pictures have been shown.

The advantages of the dissolving effect are that the screen is always illuminated, the operator being enabled to leisurely remove and insert slides without interfering with the illumination upon the screen and many realistic and beautiful effects produced, which are impossible to make when but one lantern is used.

Reading Lamps, Stands and Desks.

THE JEWEL READING LAMP AND STAND.

Frequently when pictures are being shown by the aid of a Magic Lantern, it is desirable to read from a printed book or from sheets of manuscript. To meet this want we are manufacturing the "Jewel Reading Lamp," illustrated above, together with a folding stand. The light used is an extra large stearine candle, which we find to possess several advantages over a miniature coal oil lamp. Next to the reader is placed a hinged hood, which serves to concentrate the rays of light upon the pages to be read, and at the same time prevents them from escaping elsewhere in the room.

On the back of the lamp is arranged a red signal which can be disclosed at intervals by means of a drop shutter operated by the right forefinger or by pulling a thread. For instance, should the reader disclose the red light once, it would signify to the lantern operator to show the next picture; twice quickly, to show the pictures more rapidly; three times slowly, show slides slower. Other signals may be adopted as may be found convenient.

The Stand accompanying the lamp can be placed on the floor anywhere without injury to floor or carpet. It can be quickly adjusted to conform to the height of the reader.

SCREENS.

In making screens we use only the finest bleached muslin. They are so made that over eight feet of the center of the screen is seamless, thus avoiding showing a seam in the center and most important part of a picture. All edges are made double and each corner has quadruple thicknesses of the material, insuring the greatest strength at points of the greatest strain. In each corner of all the screens and at suitable intervals in the edges of the larger sizes we place strong grommets in which suitable guy ropes can be tied.

ACME SCREEN FRAME.

After experimenting with many forms of screen frames we invented the "Acme," illustrated herewith. It is not patented. Any good carpenter can make it, but it will be found less expensive to buy it complete of us, as we have special machinery to turn the hard wood rods to fit the ends of the rods in the polished brass sockets, etc. We also make them in quantities, thus bringing the cost down to a minimum amount.

By the use of a wall and a chair one man can easily erect it in a few minutes, but it is better that two men erect it, one on each side.

In using this screen frame it can be placed anywhere in a hall without doing injury to walls, wood-work, carpet or floor, as no nails, screw eyes or hooks are needed.

It can be used with a Magic Lantern in front of it projecting a picture against the screen as is usually done, or, by placing the Magic Lantern behind the screen, the picture showing through it. When showing a picture through a screen it should be saturated with water by means of a wet sponge tied to the end of a stick.

With the screen is furnished a canvas roll with straps and buckles. The screen can be readily taken apart and placed in the roll, occupying a space 55 inches long, 8 inches wide and weighing but 21 pounds.

The Acme Screen Frame will answer for a screen, 8, 10 or 12 feet square, and are kept in stock. Frames for larger sizes made to order.

Lodge Furniture.

We are the only Regalia House that manufacture LODGE FURNITURE. In fact we are the largest manufacturers of strictly Society Furniture in the United States. The demand for our Furniture having so increased we were compelled to erect new and larger factories. We employ in this branch of our business alone nearly 200 people. The total number employed in our three factories—Regalia, Sword and Furniture—is nearly 1,000.

Our styles are new and original, and in construction we use nothing but FIRST-CLASS MATERIAL. Our lumber is thoroughly seasoned, and we guarantee our Furniture not to open at the joints, crack, or warp. The ORNAMENTATION IS SOLID WOOD, HAND CARVED. We do NOT use COMPOSITION or PLASTER ORNAMENTATION, which is constantly cracking and peeling off. In short, we manufacture only a HIGH GRADE of GOODS.

We list only a few of our styles here, and for a larger variety send for our KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS FURNITURE CATALOGUE, the largest and most complete catalogue of the kind published. In ordering, be particular to state whether to ship by freight or express.
